

Oleg Shibanov

Visiting Lecturer SKOLKOVO School of Management

Disciplines

Economics, Markets, International Business

Macroeconomics

National Banks

Economic and Financial Crisis

Finance & Accounting

Financial Markets

Financial Technology

Personal Financial Investments

Visiting Lecturer of SKOLKOVO School of Management, professor of Finance at New Economic School (NES), until 2022 – academic Director of the SKOLKOVO-NES Centre for Research in Financial Technologies and Digital Economy, . Research interests: asset management, asset pricing, and macroeconomics in application to financial markets.

Until 2018, he was the academic director of programs in economics at Sberbank Corporate University, and also served as an associate professor of finance at NES and at the Warwick Business School, UK.

Oleg has got specialist in mathematics degree at the department of Mechanics and Mathematics of the Lomonosov Moscow State University, and the Master of Arts in Economics degree at NES. He was granted PhD in Mathematics at the Lomonosov Moscow State University (2009), and PhD in Finance at the London Business School (2011). Oleg is an expert covering macroeconomics and financial markets on TV, writes columns for Forbes, Vedomosti, Kommersant, RBC and Prime.

